ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Pelletterie 2F was born in 1978 from the passion of the two partners, Francesco Cirillo and Francesco Marenzi, for leather and the manufacturing of fashion accessories.

The company's core-business was immediately identified in belts manufacturing, the essence of which is still on a semi-craftsmanship level.

Machines are all of the closed cycle kind and do not produce dangerous "work waste".

However, in order to constantly monitor the effects of production on workers and on the environment we've been working (for over 10 years) with consulting firms that help us draw medium-term plans for improving working conditions and our impact on the environment as well as specific training on new environmental policies.

Basically, our materials suppliers are leather manufacturers (tanneries) and buckle manufacturers.

As far as environmental issues are concerned, in Italy leather manufacturers ("leather and substitute materials") have been very closely monitored for a long time because of the high pollution degree that leather tanning may cause. The monitoring lead the entire sector to be 20 years ahead of most of other industrial sectors in terms of environmental performance.

Buckles manufacturers and their galvanic plants are equipped with water and rivers "analyzers" which are installed and monitored by public Agencies (A.S.L., ARPA, etc.).

Our subcontractors (when used) exclusively work within the leather goods sector. Since 2003 Pelletterie 2F has installed a complete waste management system with them by having all production waste returned to our site and preventing them from doing any disposal.
